FINDS HOME BREW PLANT IN CITY CREMATORY

Terre Haute, Ind., July 25. (INS.)—Who made beer in the city crematory, was the question this city asked itself today when it awoke to find a raid on the place by the sheriff at the instigation of Federal prohibition officer, J. Bryant who netted one smll brewery, sixty pint bottles of home brew, 328 empty bottle, two cappers, and other implements of the trade.

An aged man found at the crematory insisted he knew nothing of the liquor and was not arrested.

AGREEMENT NEAR ON DAWES PLAN IS LATEST REPORT

By DAVID M. CHURCH
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

London, July 25.—An agreement is near on the dispute between the International bankers and the French Representatives to the Allied conference on the Dawes plan. it was learned from semi-official sources, this afternoon.

A plan offering the bankers satisfactory security for their proposed $200,000,000 loan to Germany and satisfying the French demands for right to protect France in case of default, has practically ben agreed on, it was reported.

The only opposition comes from the British bankers, it was said.

Minister's Financial Advice Is Found To Be Expensive To His Flock

Rochester, N. Y., July 24. (INS)—Because their "minister" was identified with the sale of stock in the Chemical Oil & Gas Co., of Pittsburg, a number of Rochester men and women invested in the concern, some of them going so far as to raise money with which to buy stock by obtaining mortgages on their homes.

Today the minister, Rev. Fred J. Tower, former pastor of Memorial Presbyterian Church and former Superintendent for the Anti Saloon League in the Albany District, is under indictment here in connection with the Grand Jury's investigation into the activities of the Pittsburg Company. Tower has arrived in Rochester from Pennsylvania where he has been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work.

Tower, charges him with working George E. Burgess, former evangelist, who is now in Cleveland. One of the two bills handed down against Tower, charges him with working with Burgess in inducing Henry C. Taillie and his wife to mortgage their property for $6,000 and invest the money in the Chemical Oil & Gas Company. Burgess is alleged to have disposed of the bulk of the $500,000 worth of stock in the Company which was sold in this vicinity.

"LOCK THEM UP FOR SAFETY, THESE WITNESSES UNNECESSARY," SAYS MR. DARROW; "NOTHING DOING, WE WILL HANG THEM," SAYS ATTORNEY CROWE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Chicago, July 25—A battle of alienists such as no court trial has ever witnessed, not even excepting the Thaw case, was forecast today as the State of Illinois resumed its deadly hammering home of evidence designed to send young Nathan Leopold Jr., and Richard A. Loeb to the gallows for murdering little Robert Franks.

They kidnaped him, beat his head in with a chisel, strangled and stripped his body of clothes, then hid it in a water drain—all "for a thrill." They admit it.

Nearly half a hundred witnesses have passed through the box in Justice Caverly's court and told of the grewsome details. Almost the same number of grizzly exhibits, bloodclotted and ugly, have been displayed.

Nearly half a hundred more witnesses will yet tell their stories, add their bit to the "mountain of evidence on which State's Attorney Crowe says he will hang them, before two sets of scientific men take the stand and give conflicting opinions as to the normality of minds that could conceive and execute such a wanton crime.

And through it all, Leopold and Loeb, the sprightly young collegians, have laughed.

They smiled when Crowe held aloft the bloody cold chisel which one of them wielded on young Franks' head, they smiled when he ran through his fingers the rope with which they suffocated the boy; they gulawed out right as the Scandanavian servant in their homes gave broken English blows to their carefully prepared alibis.

~~These laughs,~~ these guffaws, this debonair and unfeeling attitude, are considered significant. They are being watched closely and weighed carefully.

All around the crowded, musty old court room sit alienists taking notes, making observations. When the time comes, probably next week, the psychologists will swing into action.

Until then, what Clarence Darrow calls the "unnecessary part" of the epochal case will go on. Darrow is chief counsel for the two youths. He says all this going over the story of the plot and the murder, all this parade of witnesses with their damning facts, is "unnecessary." The boys have admitted the plot and the murder.

"Give them life sentences and end it" Darrow says.

"Nothing doing—We will hang them" says Crowe.

And the show goes on.

Crowe is taking no chances. He is making his case as rock-ribbed and fool proof" as it is possible for a murder case to be made with the evidence at hand he is completing record against the time when it is possible a hanging verdict will be appealed.

There are persistent rumors of a coup on the part of Darrow and the defense, something brilliant, unexpected and spectacular—such as characterized his action on Monday when he unexpected withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded his charges guilty of murder, a most unusual proceeding.

Darrow is feared and respected by his legal opponents.

An evidence of this is seen from the fact that court attaches, hardened and experienced in a thousand murder trials, are betting even money in the corridors on a verdict of hanging or life imprisonment.

The defense is taking a long chance on convincing Justice Caverly, sitting both as Judge and Jury, that the two dapper young collegians are intellectually and morally abnormal:

"Dickie" Loeb and Nathan Leopold Jr., planned and executed the kidnaping and brutal slaying of young Franks with consummate skill, and an attention to detail that any fictional villain might well envy.

Had it not been for the accidental loss of a pair of glasses of Leopold's near the culvert wherein they stuffed the boy's naked body it is doubtful if they ever would have been apprehended.

Their counsel, backed up by the best alienists that money can hire are getting ready to recite all this, and point to the boys' unprecedented demeanor in court and ask.

A pathetic daily figure in the court room is Nathan Leopold, Sr., who sits

TELEPHONE GIRL STICKS TO POST. SAVES VILLAGE

Monroe, Mich., July 25. (INS.)—Miss Maxine Turner, telephone operator, saved the village of Carleton, ten miles north of here, from destruction by fire early today.

Miss Turner called fire departments in neighrboring cities and they were able to stop the flames after three buildings had been destroyed with loss of $100,000.

Diplomats Not Satisfied With Persian Apology For The Imbrie Murder

London, July 25 (INS.)—The diplomatic corps is dissatisfied with the Persian governments' reply to its collective note of protest following the recent murder of Robert W. Imbrie, American vice consul by a mob of religious fanatics, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail today from Teheran.

The Government's reply, the dispatch said, disclaimed responsibility for the attack and made excuses for the inaction of the police who were reported to have stood idly by and watched the mob beat the American to death and seriously injure Melin Seymour, another American.

Beefsteak And Onion Dinner Served Rotes At Goshen Gun Club

The members of the Clearfield Rotary Club, to the number of fifty, were the guests yesterday afternoon and evening at Goshen Club House of Rotarians Hobart Callahan and Fred B. Leavy. These Rotarians, who are also members of the Goshen Club got up a toothsome beefsteak dinner which was very much enjoyed. The dinner was not only provided by the pair mentioned, but cooked and served as well by Callahan and Leavy who were assisted at this end of it by Joe Chase nd "Peggy" Orr.

Following the feed the regular weekly meeting of Rotary was held with President Gurney Smith presiding. The address of the evening was made by Harry Hallock of Columbus, Ohio, who for three or four years has been working for the crippled children of Ohio by the building up of a state wide organization out of which come free care, cure and education, for every crippled child in that great state.

For ten years prior to engaging in this great crippled children work, Harry Hallock was connected with the Ohio State government at Columbus, O.,in a position where he was the legal guardian and protector of 1000 cripled children of the state. It was during this time that he had brought to his mind so forcibly the sad fact that his state did no more than appoint guardians to act as foster parents to crippled children, and this in spite of the fact that it was

BUTLER TO STICK, HE TELLS THE POLICE MOST EMPHATICALLY

Philadelphia, July 25. (INS.)—General Smedley Butler has served emphatic notice on his political enemies that he has no intention of resigning as director of public safety until his term of office expires.

In a talk here yesterday to a group of police inspectors, the director effectively spiked all rumors that have been going the rounds since his alleged break with the mayor two weeks ago to the effect that he was anxious to return to the Marine Corps and would not consider remaining here after January 5 next.

"Don't be misled by the idea that I am going to quit," said the director. "Remember I was appointed for four years and I'm going to stay until I'm kicked out."

The general heatedly denied reports that he and Mayor Kendrick are at sword's points and called on the men to renew their allegiance to the mayor's announced policies.

The two are scheduled to meet today for the first time in two weeks at the ball game between Philadelphia and Camden police. Director Butler has agreed to catch the first inning for the Quaker City coppers.

Butler's announcement that he desires to remain here after his year's leave of absence expires in January puts the matter squarely up to Mayor Kendrick. President Coolidge has already stated he will grant Butler another year of grace from the Marine Corps after the mayor requests it.

Hundreds Flocked to The Play Ground Picnic At The Park Yesterday P. M.

The four playgrounds held an outing yesterday at the Driving Park and several hundred children from ages one to sixteen years enjoyed the activities. Each playground had a good following and rooted for their respective teams in the different contests. The playground leades were in charge, Miss Dorothy Robb of West Side, Miss Margaret Jane Overly of East End, Miss Elizabeth Wall, of Witmer Park, and Miss Kathryn Thorn, of Reedsville. The activities were under the supervision of Y. M. C. A. Director of Physical Education G. Leslie Shannon.

The girls' volley ball league got under way at the picnic, resulting in Reedsville taking three straight from Witmer Park while in the second contest East End won two games after losing the first game to West Side.

One of the features of the picnic was the grand peanut scramble and racae. The boys and girls were divided and each had their own race, resulting in William Callahan coming first with 84 "goobers," while Catherine Bibby was first with the girls, 78 'double jointed jumbos."

The sack race held the attention of the crowd of happy youngsters for a long time and different heats were won by Mable Bloom of Reedsville, Dorothy Ganoe of East End and Caroline Cuetara of Witmer Park. The Reedsville boys, Martin Walker and Barton Hill, won their heats.

Only one match was played in the horse shoe contest, owing to the time and other activities, Reedsville taking

PENNSY-GRAMS

Connellsville.—Authorities are today seeking the murderer of Andrew Cristo, who had been missing for more than a week. Cristo's body was found in a field between this city and Uniontown yesterday. A bullet hole was in his skull. Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the murder, police say.

Bedford.—David and Jacob Koonrod ate a $100 meal a few days ago. However, it was only yesterday that they had to pay for the repast. The two Koonrods are said to have crossed the state line into Maryland and killed a wild turkey out of season, returned to Pennsyllvania, dressed and cooked and ate the fowl. Upon complaint of Deputy Game Warden Joseph Weaver of Maryland the men were arrested near Englesmith and fined $50 and costs each.

Uniontown.—There will be 11 women grand jurors on the grand jury during the first week of September. This is the largest number of women ever serving in Fayette county.

Philadelphia—Anthony Maxtranton 34, was arrested here for firing three shots at his 18 year old sweetheart, Rose Cervone. None of the bullets took effect. Maxtranton was described as a "too ardent" suitor.

Yellow Dogs Formally Celebrate Opening Of Irvin Park Pavillion

Yellow Dogs for miles around trekked into Curwensville last evening in answer to the "ki yi's" of Chief Cur Grant Norris for the purpose of participating in the ceremonies incidental to the first meeting in the recently completed pavilion at Irvin Park.

This pavilion, which was erected at a considerable cost, is a monument to the tireless energy of Chief Cur Norris and his Curwensville kennel, the members of which united in a public spirited move to equip the town's beautiful rest and recreational ground with suitable buildings. The present one is the first step in that direction and goes to show what can be accomplished by intelligently directed, unselfish community effort.

A large class of mangy curs, including a bunch from Clearfield, were qualified for entry into polite canine society during the evening, the initiatory ceremonics being especially well handled.

The Yellow Dogs will stage a mammoth Labor Day celebration at Curwensville, and as Clearfield and all the other surrounding towns will lay off on celebrations this year and assist in making the Curwensville celebration the success it should be, a record-breaking crowd is looked for at the beautiful little up-river town.

COLLISION AT CORNER OF SECOND AND CHERRY

One of the Ford delivery trucks of the Clearfield Laundry and the car of Mrs. Fred Pilkington, of Fourth street, came together at the corner of Second and Cherry streets shortly before the noon hour today. Mrs. Pilkington, coming down Second street attempted to turn into Cherry as "Si" Mann endeavored to come out of Cherry into Second with the laundry truck. "Si" had Misses Kline and Cochrane of the laundry force in the car with him. Miss Cochrane had one of her fingers cut by flying glass from a broken windshield. The injury, which was slight, was treated by Dr. G. B. Yeaney. Nobody else was hurt in the wreck.

The Ford had two wheels snapped off, while the Pilkington car was also banged up some. A third car traveling up Second street was a factor in causing the mishap.

"BOB" NAMES PARTY "PROGRESSIVE" PARTY

Washington, July 25.—The "Progressive" party came into existence today as the official designation for the standard carried by Senator Robert M. LaFollette in his independent drive for the White House.

The party name was chosen officially by the "committee of eleven" which will direct the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign. It will be used in every state in which the LaFollette forces establish an independent ticket of presidential electors.

The party emblem will be the Liberty Bell.

Graduation Exercises Of Local Bible School Next Thursday Evening

The School is going along with increasing interest. Plans are maturing for the Graduation and Picnic.

A special invitation is hereby given to the parents of the children of the Primary Department to visit that Department, meeting in the Lutheran church on Tuesday morning,July 29th The teachers and pupils will be glad to welcome all the parents who can come. But be there at 9:15 shorp. The sweetest exercises are carried on.

As to the picnic the School can provide transportation to the Park for only the members of the School. The school is so large the transportation of any others cannot be considered. All those not attending the School should provide their own transportation if they plan to spend the picnic day at Irvin Park.

Parents are welcome to spend the day with their children if they provide their own transportation to the Park and take their lunch with them.

The graduation exercises will be carried out in Trinity Methodist church, Thursday, July 31 at 7:30. Some beautiful exercises are being planned and everybody is most cordially invited. You will be pleased.

The Assembly takes place at 10 o'clock each morning of the School. All are welcome to visit the assembly. The boys and girls have much to do themselves inthis period. Inspiring addresses are given by ministers.

The expenses are heavy and any public spirited adult of Clearfield caring to do so, can help by sending any sized contribution to J. Lewis Irwin, Chairman of the Committee or to W. E. Brown, Secretary of the Committee. The School is worth while.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. J. S. Stone, of 402, 11th street celebrated the anniversary of her birth last evening by a six o'clock dinner at her home. All the family were there and a few intimate friends and neighbors. Among the family present were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stone, of Irvona; Mrs. Lloyd Turner and family of Woodland; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stone and family and Mr. and Mrs. Milo Stone and family.

BASEBALL DOPE

The DuBois Elks team managed to keep right at Clearfield's heels, one-half game from the top, by winning from Philipsburg at Scott Field yesterday afternoon by the score of 9 to 3. Johnny Zortman pitched for DuBois and the Philipsburg sluggers were not able to do much with him.

10 Year Old Chester Hill Boy Steps From One Car In Front Of Another; Injuries Kill

Picnic joy and festivities were swiftly changed into tragic sorrow in Chester Hill Wednesday afternoon July 23rd, as the result of an automobile accident which proved fatal to Robert Peters, who, with his parents, was on his way to the Chester Hill community picnic at Lakeside Park, Morrisdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters and their three children had started in their car from their home on Ida street for the picnic grounds and had stopped at Pearson's store along the state highway, in Chester Hill, to make a few purchases.

The boy, it is reported, insisted on going for the purchases after they had stopped. He was cautioned to watch for the passing cars, as it was necessary to cross the highway to reach the store. He stood on the running board while several automobiles passed in both directions, and then stepped off, seemingly having failed to see the automobile approaching from Philipsburg. Though the driver of the car, John O'Connor, of Franklin, Pa., made every effort to avoid running the lad down, he failed.

The accident happened about 2:30 and the injured boy was at once hurried to the McGirk sanitarium and later in the afternoon was removed to the Philipsburg State hospital. He passed away at 7:30 in the evening, about two hours after having been admitted. He had a fracture of the jaw and of the skull.

Robert Ellsworth Peters was born at Chester Hill on Sept. 26, 1914. He was a bright and lively lad and the parents are receiving the sympathy of the whole community in their grief over the terrible affair. Beside the parents, two sisters, Louise and Jane both younger than he, survive.

BELL FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion of the William Bell family will be held on Sunday, July 27, at the home of Lewis Jury of LeContes Mills. There will be 32 members there to enjoy the day together. Among those who are from a distance will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. CARPENTIER K. O. ED BY TUNNEY IN 15TH, CLAIMS FOUL PLAY

By JACK LAIT
(Famous Author and Newspaper Writer.)
(Written especially for I. N. S.)

New York, July 25.—Carpentier, who has an uncanny penchant for wiggling off the hook, has managed again to make a knockout "technical" and today is screaming aloud that he was fouled, robbed and outraged.

His claim this time is backed by stouter stuff than his cries of double cross by Siki and the twisted ankle alibi with Gibbons. No one saw the blow about which he complains. The French right-wheeler was bent over, his back to the referee, his chin on Tunney's shoulder. Tunney, whaling upward at his concaved midsection, came up and hit him. Maybe the hit was low, maybe it wasn't. Georges had struck Tunney below the belt several times in earlier rounds and had been forgiven.

Carpentier dropped after he had straightened up, then writhed about on the canvas with an indescribable expression of agony on his handsome features. There was no count. Everyone stood in confusion. Then the bell rang. The fallen man was helped to his stool, where he hung on the lower rope, his features twitching. Descamps was yelling "foul" at the top of his trained lungs and begging, demanding, pleading, groaning that the referee examine the aluminum guard.

No water was thrown on Carp. The shrill fifteen second whistle tore the air. The seconds withdrew. The bell clanged. Carpentier, bent over and with the mien of tortured suffering, made a move to put up his hands, but they fell of their own weight. The referee pushed Tunney aside and waved the fight on. Carp sank down on his haunches and lay limp.

This after an exhibition of gameness by Carpentier which no one h[illegible] suspected. Brilliant, dashing [illegible] picturesque fighter that he had [illegible] ways been in defeat, he had [illegible] given reason to hope that after h[illegible] ha[illegible] been battered down by a thousand punches, he would swing on the referee who was stopping the fight and tear into the young butcher who was punching him into a pulp.

That tenth round was the greatest fighting round, perhaps, ever seen; more thrilling even than either of the Dempsey-Firpo. Carpentier had been holding his own and was [illegible] snappy and flashy, when he stepped into a right and left hook to the jaw and went down. Up again, his eyes glassy, he took a right and flopped.

He staggered up, senseless and silly, and Tunney hit and hit and hit him.

The referee laid his hand on Carp. That woke him up. He swung at him and with the same motion tore at Tunney and weakly but grimly landed with his classic right. The crowd was on its feet. Down again went Georges on one knee from a right uppercut against which he had no defense. Descamps leaped on the ring edge with a sponge held aloft. A policeman, excited, dragged him down. Carp was up again and lashing out. As the bell rang, Tunney hit him forty times and the Frenchman was swaying like a broken orchid in a wind. Tunney stepped aside. Carpentier collapsed in a heap. He was carried to his corner.

And the eleventh, with Carp still dull eyed and groggy and wobbly was Carpentier's. The twelfth was even. The thirteenth he weathered but was going fast. He had lost his distance and whip as well as his sting. But he hung on. In truth he was even doing most of the leading. Tunney was backing about, waiting for the opening and still afraid or ashamed to tear loose. The fourteenth looked like the end but Carp was still on his pins and his eyes were beginning to brighten. Then came the clinch and the exchange at the ropes when the alleged low punch was struck.

Anyway, while the fight lasted, the flash of the superlative fighting man was a surprise and a sensation. The whole crowd had been for Tunney but switched almost to a man for Carp, a foreigner, and cheered like maniacs until the sudden and disappointing finale.

Carpentier was in great shape, outwardly and seemed to have the heart of a lion under the pink skin of a movie sheik. He looked better and worked faster and kickier than in his battle with Dempsey and was four [illegible]ten like the one who limped to the [illegible]ish with Gibbons. When he was at his worst he was at his greatest, a new role for the former light heavy king who had heretofore been a bobcat winner and a crow loser.

As for Tunney, he is young, strong and willing, [illegible] Neither is he murderous [illegible] great card. He [illegible] but not [illegible] corner apparently [illegible]. And letting himself back his [illegible] and clear his head was extremely [illegible] only, though it did seem a decent thing to do, but Dempsey wouldn't and Leonard wouldn't, and surely Carpentier wouldn't.

"Lock Them Up For Safety," Says Darrow

for hours on the edge of his chair just behind his sleeklooking son, his hands clasped on the head of his cane, his fine aristocratic old face a picture of utter bewilderment and ashen dismay.

His eyes seldom leave the witness box and its parade of witnesses swearing away the life of his youngest and his namesake. When his gaze is shifted it usually is to the boy. Sometimes he shakes his head dumbly. Only rarely does he glance at Jacob Franks, father of young Bobby, sitting grim-looking and hard a few chairs away. No words pass between them, despite their years of friendship.

Only rarely does he speak to his son, and then only when the boy comes into the room from the "bull pen" down stairs.

"Hello, pop," says [illegible] Jr.

"How are you, [illegible]," he responds.

That is all.

Court adjourned, the boy goes back to the bull pen, smiling, chatting with "Dickie" Loeb, laughing over the incidents of the session, gay and relieved that another session is over.

CONQUER ANOTHER WORLD

Last evening the Hyde City-Reedsville-West Side baseball team under the management of Merril Teats took a trip up among the "tall sticks" to play the "mountaineers" on the hill a game of baseball.

It seems we must have forgotten to remove some of the stumps, altho we did whittle on the "tall sticks" until we carved them down about 42 inches long and 3 inches in diameter. Pretty nice clubs, huh? Just full of hits.

This conglomeration of baseball material mustn't mind a stump once in a while, especially when they travel up in the "tall timber" to play baseball. Score, Hillsdale 5, Teats Mixture 1.

Also wish to enlighten the memory of Mr. Gus Tyson and his sluggers in regards to his "rarin' to go." Scratch your head and think of those two spankings we gave you. You remember, 7 to 1 and 11 to 3? We will try to impress this one on you this coming Saturday.

On Monday evening the Reedsville team, brooded by the Reedsville "candy king," L. E. Pooler, came up the hill and as usual took home the short end of the candy stick. Score: Hillsdale 3, Reedsville 1.

Good Time Coming for Sonny.

We have often said of a certain little boy in the neighborhood whose mother is dead that his dad was both mother and father to him. The father married recently, and Sonny, on hearing the news, clapped his hands and said: "I'm so glad for Sonny; he'll have a woman mother now."—Exchange.

Not Hard to Determine.

There are usually two viewpoints of value of work—that of the worker and that of the employer. The one may overestimate as much as the other underestimates. Approximate value may lie between them, and is easily determined when the laborer is worthy of his hire.—Grit.

Use Paper Plates And "Silver" On Your Picnic

What's the use of taking the household dishes or the household silver along when you go to the woods for a picnic? We have paper plates, paper cups, paper forks, paper spoons, paper napkins and paper table sets.

Aside from saving the family china and silver ware, you may wash these kinds of dishes and silver by gathering them together and touching a match to them.

Doesn't cost as much as one broken good cup or plate or one lost knife or spoon.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The Germans are getting ready for something. Just what, isn't clear. But the government centered in Berlin is spending less than it's collecting in taxes and so on—saving as much as $5,000,000 a week.

This results from the 20 per cent increase in taxes.

The European situation begins to look more promising, with money piling up in Germany for reparations. Or will it be used for that?

The strength of Senator LaFollette is indicated by the growing number of high politicians deserting the old parties and joining the LaFollette banner.

He started off with only Senators Shipstead and Magnus Johnson, of Minnesota, as his avowed supporters.

He has been joined by Senator Ladd and Senator Frazier, of North Dakota, both Republicns.

He has been joined by Senator Wheeler, of Montana, who stars with Senator Walsh as the Gold Dust Twins engaged in cleaning up corruption in the Federal Government.

Senator Wheeler has accepted the nomination for Vice-President on the LaFollette ticket, which thereby becomes a true non-partisan progressive ticket.

Nor does this represent the end of desertions. The LaFollette people confidently hope to be joined by the fighting Missouri Senator, James A. Reed, the brainiest man and the best orator on the Democratic side of the Senate.

There is a further group of influential politicians who can be counted upon to give passive if not active support to the Presidential candidacy of LaFollette. This group includes Republican Senators Brookhart, of Iowa; Norris, of Nebraska and the Democratic Senator Dill, of Washington, all three of whom were helped in their last elections by the personal assistance of Senator LaFollette.

It is hard to see how Hiram Johnson, of California, can keep very far away from the LaFollette band wagon. He has been thrown down by the Old Guard Republican machine which controls California. Through the opposition of this Old Guard he was overwhelmingly defeated by Coolidge in the Presidential primaries. Johnson is a Progressive and has no future except in Progressive ranks.

The same must be said of Senator Borah, of Idaho. He refused the Vice presidential nomination with Coolidge. His state, Idaho, seems one of the certain of those that are listed for the LaFollette column in the November elections. The Idaho Progressives, who nearly elected their candidate for Governor in 1922, are conceded that election this year.

The politicians have their ears to the ground and are the first to note the widespread rumble of popular dissatisfaction with the status of politics.

PROMINENT CATHOLIC BISHOP IS DEAD

Charlotte, N. C. July 25 (INS.)—Right Rev. Leo Haid, Bishop of North Carolina, Dean of the Catholic Hierarchy of America and since July 1885 Abbot of Belmount Catholic Abbey, 127 miles from here, is dead here today following several weeks illness.

William Kramer, formerly of Akron, Ohio, who has been a resident of Clearfield for some time, was called to his former home today by the death of his father.

caring for, curing and educating in state institutions or at state expense all other classes of defective children. The state had gone so far as to make a survey so when various societies such as the Society for crippled children, the Rotary Clubs, The Elks, The Shrine and others got together with the idea of having the state attempt a correction of children's physical defects, Harry Hallock was the man put in charge of building the legislation and getting it placed on the statute books. As a result of that effort, hundreds of Ohio children are now romping at play who would otherwise be bed-ridden for life, others are hop-skipping who heretofore had to use crutches, etc.

Mr. Hallock, at the solicitation of many good men and fine organizations of the state will stay in Pennslyvania for some time. He wants our children made well as well as Ohio's and we know the public will respond to his efforts.

THE VERDICT AGAINST "PITTSBURGH PLUS"

The decision of the Federal Trade Commission abolishing "Pittsburg Plus" is the first victory for eleven State Legislatures, 6,000,000 farmers and the people of twenty-eight Western and Southern States in their long fight against the steel industry. There is hardly a farmer in America who does not know and condemn "Pittsburg Plus." Nor any steel user who has not felt the burden of what Steel defends as an "immemorial custom."

What is "Pittsburg Plus" South and West it is a battlecry raised against about 200 steel producers. It has been defined as

> • • • that practice in the steel industry whereby all rolled steel, except rails—regardless of where it is made—is sold at a delivered price which consists of the mill price at Pittsburg, plus the amount of freight from Pittsburg to destination.

This "plus" goes into the coffers of the steel mills. It works like this. There is at Pueblo, Col., a steel mill producing 1,250,000 tons yearly. Across the road from the mill Pueblo-made steel is going into a new building. That steel must "pay the freight" from Pittsburg, adding $24 to the cost of every ton of it.

Chicago is in the heart of the Western steel district. Until 1923, when terrific pressure forced the establishment of a Chicago "base price," steel made at Gary, Joliet and South Chicago paid a phantom freight of $6.80 per ton. Yet in 1918, at Duluth, Judge Gary, of United States Steel, admitted that the cost of Gary steel was 18.12 per cent less than the cost of Pittsburg steel.

Birmingham produces 1,500,000 tons of steel annually. Its "plus," once $15.20 per ton, has been cut to $5; but Birmingham must still pay that much tribute. Before the ten per cent rate cuts,Philadelphia, producing 4,500,000 tons annually, paid a $7 "plus" per ton on her own steel and was charged $7 instead of the actual $2.90 paid on steel from Bethlehem. New York was charged $7.60 instead of the actual $3.20 paid for freighting Bethlehem steel.

"Pittsburg Plus" grew out of the old "steel pools" and "Gary dinners." Established about 1904, it began functioning when these were outlawed or discontinued. Its defense by Steel may be thus summarized:

> It is a result of the law of supply and demand. Since Pittsburg is the only surplus-production district, this practice is essential to the stabilization of the industry. No new mills can be built if it is abolished. Its going will mean market chaos, would benefit few and, finally, it has existed throughout the life of the American steel industry.

In the face of this defense, the Federal Trade Commission has found for the plaintiffs, and these findings may be condensed as follows:

> "Pittsburg Plus" is a price-fixing scheme that has succeeded the old "steel pools" and "Gary dinners." It is a monopoly contrary to the public interest and is in no way based on the law of supply and demand, but is made possible only by the dominant position of United States Steel in the industry. It is a price discrimination, destroying competition, in violation of the Clayton Act and of the Federal Trade Commission Act. Further, it adds unnecessery millions to the small steel bill of America, and specifically it adds $30,000,000 yearly to the cost of steel products used by farmers of eleven Western States.

The farm angle of "Pittsburg Plus" is a most significant one. Of every 100 users of rolled steel, seventy-five are farmers. Farms absorb three-sevenths of all steel and iron made. Since most farm implements are made an average of 500 miles west of Pittsburg, this phantom freight hits the farmer hard. Prior to the general 10 per cent freight reduction there was $1.93 "plus" in every corn planter, $3.61 in a disk harrow, $6.88 in a grain binder, and $19.80 in the farm tractor.

The farm clamor against it was taken up in 1920 by the American Farm Bureau. In the mid-West it became a political question. Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, used it in his 1922 campaign. Senator La Follette and his followers have harped on it for years. It has been one of the favorite grievances of the farm agitator. The order for its abolition will echo and re-echo through the 1924 campaign.

The Trade Commission has made a decision of far-reaching importance. If the death verdict stands through the courts, there will be radical changes in the steel industry. Its bases must shift and its methods of marketing and distribution will be junked. Steel must say good-by to a vast tribute it has exacted for a generation.

With the passing of this phantom freight charge Pittsburg may lose its long-threatened domination in steel. It may be that eventually the lower end of Lake Michigan will be the steel area of North America. If so, the region where Illinois and Indiana come up to meet the lake will become the heart of a very powerful industrial empire. The end of "Pittsburg Plus" is Pittsburg's loss and Chicago's and the mid-West's gain. What this may mean to business, manufacture, to trade and the existing channels of trade only the future can reveal. —(Public Ledger.)

WHAT ABOUT STEEL NOW?

A popular belief, apparently supported by statistics of the industry, is that the United States Steel Corporation could, if it cared to do so by offering the competition of which it is capable, control the iron and steel business to the great disadvantage of the independent concerns. That it could monopolize the industry no sane person affects to believe, because its productive capacity in its particular lines is not 50 per cent of the country's productive capacity. United States Steel possesses advantages in the ownership of sources of raw materials and transportation facilities for the same superior to any other concerns in the industry. Its business policy, pursued ever since its organization, has given it financial strength probably unrivaled. If ever a company were positioned to bring disaster to competitors through straight competitive methods the Steel Corporation is. Yet it has been its policy to let others live. The stabilization of the steel industry is fairly attributable to this company.

Now comes the Federal Trade Commission with an order to the Steel Corporation to discontinue selling its rolled products on the system known as "Pittsburg Plus." It calls for elimination of a stabilizing device that, if it profits United States Steel, has not damaged competitive concerns. On the face of the statements that have been made "Pittsburg Plus" appears unfair to some buyers of steel products. But that in its broader aspects it is not generally beneficial has not been demonstrated. The evils of unrestrained competition have been so often revealed that the order of the Federal Trade Commission is received with misgivings in many places. If the Steel Corporation's price structure is broken down that of its competitors cannot be maintained, however essential to them it may be.

"Pittsburgh Plus"is held by the Commission to be violative of theClayton Act. Presumably the courts will be asked to pass on this question. The Steel Corporation will submit to the law. But the condition which might follow upon enforcement of the Commission's order conceivably would tend to less general satisfaction than that which it sought to abolish.—(Gazette Times.)

SAVE THE CHILDREN

By FLORENCE DAVIES

Once again it is made clear that laws never really cure evils.

Is something wrong? There ought to be a law. It's the old refrain.

Now it's the burning question of child labor. As long as little children toil in mines and fields and factories, while grown men and women live off the products of their toil, every citizen ought to hang his head in shame.

But so far, efforts to pass laws to put an end to this evil have only proved how difficult it is to arrive at true justice through legislative measures.

It is true that most of the opposition so far, has come from employers who profit by the labor of chilldren. One can have scant sympathy for their point of view. Better a few dividends cut in two than that little children should stand all day with aching backs and weary feet, in the blazing sun or the stifling air of factories.

There is another source of complaint from those people who do not believe in the increasing tendency toward centralization of government, and the gradual limiting of the right of each state to govern itself. These people have a right to their convictions because centralized rulings of this kind have proved to be dangerous.

But in this case, if a just plan of limiting child labor could be arrived at, a state could well afford to waive its rights for so noble an end.

So that objection should be easily brushed aside, also. The really difficulty lies in finding a plan, by which children will be protected from all exploitation and given an opportunity for normal whollesome living and for at least the rudiments of an education, on the one hand, without interefering with normal family life and family discipline on the other hand.

In the last analysis this is something that it will be difficult for a formal law to do.

Some of the laws suggested would make it actually illegal for a girl, under eighteen to do the dishes while a mother did the washing, or for a boy of sixteen to take his turn at a days work in the fields, or garden.

How can a law be so worded that parents will be forced to teach cooperation and personal responsibility to their children without at the same time allowing them to work beyond their strength. This is a matter which calls for an individual conscience, for the loving care which most parents instinctively feel, but which a considerable few are too selfish to exercise.

The process of creating public sentiment, which is the best cure for all of society's evils, is too long and too slow, just now to use on behalf of the children.

In the meantime thousands of children of this generation would suffer. What we need are employers and parents with an awakened sense of responsibility toward young. But in the mean time, it's quite true that a law of some kind must be passed and that right speedily.

WAS HAPPY EVENT

The public reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barone last evening following the wedding of their daughter, Miss Carrie Barone, to Reese Marine, was a particularly happy gathering. Several hundred young people attended and enjoyed the occasion immensely. The reception was held in the big hall on the second floor of the Barone garage. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served to all.

the contest with Witmer Park.

In the playground ball lleague, Witmer Park lost to East End 7 to 8, and also lost to West Side, 8 to 14. The league will continue this afternoon, Reedsville going to East End and West Side going to Witmer Park.

The favorite refreshments outside of the big lunches each boy and girl brought was the ice cream cone, nearly four hundred being consumed. The kiddies all want to know when the next one will be as they want to bring their friends along to enjoy the day.

33 LESS PEOPLE DIE THAN LAST YEAR AT GRADE CROSSINGS

Harrisburg, Pa., July 25, (INS)—Thirty-three fewer people were killed in railroad grade crossing accidents in Pennsylvania during the first six months of this year than during a similar period of 1923, according to John P. Dohoney, chief of the Bureau of Accidents of the Public Service Commission.

The decrease is forty per cent lower than during the first half of last year. The total number of accidents for the first six months of 1923 was 483 while this year it dropped to 409, Mr. Dohoney said.

During the first half of last year 82 people were killed at crossings as compared with 49 for the early half of 1924. Of this number in 1923 twenty nine fatalities occured at protected crossings which is twelve more than the similar period of 1924. The number killed at unprotected crossings last year was 53 as compared with 3 in 1924.

Automobiles figured to a large extent in the accidents at grade crossings during the six months period ending June 30, 1921, the bureau record discloses. Of the 409 accidents 357 automobiles were involved which is 87 per cent of the total. Thirty four people were killed and 186 other injured. Eighty-four per cent of the casualties at grade crossings during the early part of the year were caused by automobiles.

A closer analysis of the automobile figures show that twenty-nine machines were stalled on the tracks and struck by trains resulting in the death of one person and the injury of 1 others. Eleven cars were driven through lowered gates and struck by trains causing two deaths and the injury of 9 occupants. Six people were killed and 47 injured during the six month period when 95 automobiles were driven into the side of engines or trains moving over crossings.

During the same period 391 automobiles, 19 auto-buses and taxi cabs, 3 motorcycles, 7 wagons and 4 street cars were driven through lowered crossing gates but did not collide with trains. This is a total of 424 as compared with 347 for the same period in 1923.

Accidents of street railways in the State for the same comparative period increased from 1084 in 1923 to 122 this year, the announcement says. Of this number 66 were killed this year which is an increase of 23 and the number injured jumped from 1284 in 1923 to 1415 this year. Fourteen of the 66 killed this year were trespassers, 7 passengers and three employes. The others were non-trespassers.

Apparatus Separates Parasites From Soil

Ingenious Flotation Device of Dr. Cobb Is Valuable.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In studying the nemas which exist in the soil and which, in many cases, cause diseases of plants such as root-knot and certain rots, there has been much difficulty in separating the organisms from the soil. Most of these threadlike parasites are extremely small and cannot be picked out by ordinary methods; neither can they be washed out readily. However, Dr. N. A. Cobb of the United States Department of Agriculture has devised an ingenious flotation apparatus which affords valuable aid in removing nemas from a sample of soil.

The apparatus consists essentially of a hollow cylinder several inches in diameter and three or four feet high, tapering for about a foot to a small opening at the bottom and provided with a spout near the top. This cylinder is fastened to a circular rotating table or frame which is turned at a moderate speed by a motor while nema-free water is run in from the bottom by turning a graduated tap. The soil sample is mixed with a small quantity of water and then poured quickly into the rotating cylinder when it is about a quarter full of water. The rotation destroys any disturbing up-and-down currents which might interfere with the separation, as in some ore separating machines.

Nemas sink very slowly and the rise of the water is so regulated by the tap that it will a little more than counteract their fall. As a result the soil particles which are heavier sink to the bottom and the nemas are lifted to the top. When the rising column of muddy water reaches the upper opening it is spouted with the contained nemas into a vessel set on the rotating table to catch the overflow. When all the nemas are collected in this vessel they are allowed to settle to the bottom. The water is drawn off and a slimy mass containing the nemas in much greater concentration is found in the bottom. They may then be removed and examined under the microscope. By this method also the number of nemas in a given quantity of soil may be estimated.

Mississippi Girls Work for Pure Bred Poultry

Pure bred poultry is receiving encouragement in Mississippi through the interest of a leading merchant in Laurel. Jones county, who gave twenty settings of pure bred Rhode Island Red eggs to twenty "4H" poultry club members. These girls were required to raise as many as possible of the chicks hatched and keep all except one pullet, which was returned to the donor. The twenty pullets which came back were made into five pens, to each of which a cock was added. The five pens were then given to five other girls in the county, who were to own the chickens. Each of these girls, however, promised to send in a setting of eggs to be distributed in turn to other girls.

Eighteen of the original girls succeeded with the project, according to a report received by the United States Department of Agriculture. The two who failed were allowed to try again. This plan has proved an excellent means of interesting club girls in the production of pure bred poultry, and many of their neighbors have also become interested.

Cropping System Helped by Growing Soy Beans

Soy beans as a soil building crop which would also furnish an economical protein feed supplement have been given a thorough trial by Blackford county (Ind.) farmers on the advice of their agricultural extension agent. The rapid increase in the acreage planted to the crop in the county indicates that they found it a valuable addition to their cropping system. Five years ago, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, only a few farmers in the county grew soy beans, but in 1923 approximately 3,850 acres were grown with corn and 500 acres were grown alone for seed and hay.

FARM NOTES

If you are dissatisfied with your lot, grow a garden on it.

Don't guess at the moisture conditions of your land. Bore into it and be certain.

Marketing eggs by barter is rapidly giving way to the new-fashion method of co-operative selling.

Failure to treat oats for smut the last few years has cost growers at least three and a half bushels an acre.

Song and game birds are friends of the farmer. Protect and encourage them and they will reduce the losses from insects.

If you wish to improve the quality of your flock without serious expense the best thing to do is to cull out a pen of the choicest birds and hatch their eggs.

Seeding alfalfa without a nurse crop in the early spring is often a risky proposition, particularly if the ground has not been worked over as much as it should have been.

Stepping stones.

Doing the best you can is the practice you need to help you do better.

WOOD'S PART IN GAMES

Where would our games be without trees? All are dependent upon wood for their existence, says the London Tit-Bits. Football is one of the few that could dispense with it, for the goal posts and the flag sticks could be made of some other material, but wood is the most convenient. To cricket wood is indispensable. Where should we be without willows from which our bats are made and ash for the wickets? But a bat needs other woods as well as willow. To help to make the handle springy cane is introduced for splicing, rubber (the product of another tree) frequently being let into the handle to give it greater "spring." A bat made entirely of willow, without any splicing, would have no "spring" at all, and a player would not be able to hit a hard ball owing to the "sting." Ash is used in many ways in sport. The best frames of lawn tennis and badminton rackets are made from it; so are hockey sticks and the cheaper varieties of croquet mallets. Bows and arrows and billiard cues are also made principally from ash. Cane seems to be the only satisfactory wood for splicing, and it is used in the handles of hockey sticks and tennis rackets to impart "spring." The better woods, such as ebony and mahogany, are used to weight the butts of billiard cues. The heads of golf clubs are usually made of beech, as are croquet balls. Hickory or greenheart provides the shafts of golf clubs and fishing rods. From lancewood are made the finest bows for archery; this wood is also used for high grade cricket stumps.

Alarming possibilities of the radio are seen with every new development. Now it is reported from Dawson that radio apparatus is making its appearance in the Yukon, and the worst feature of the report is that residents at that far northern latitude are able to hear the jazz music that emanates from New York, San Francisco and other cities, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. "Dance halls at Miller Creek and Keno Mills," we are told, "have experimented and found that they can tune in on radio concerts for their jazz music." This is something that might have been foreseen, but it is, indeed, news of dire portent. American jazz, from which there is no escape at home and which already has made a successful invasion of certain foreign countries, is destined to be carried by the radio to the uttermost ends of the earth. What will be the consequence no one can tell.

The derivation of dog names recently formed the subject of an interesting discourse by a widely-known dog fancier. The spaniel, it seems, was so called because the original breed of this type came from Spain, says the Detroit News. The Blenheim spaniel got his name from Blenheim palace, where this dog first gained popularity in the time of the great duke of Marlborough. In the same way the King Charles spaniel owes its name to the merry monarch. Fox terriers did not gain their name from a likeness to a fox, but from the fact that formerly they were used in hunting foxes. Many years ago they were sent by their masters down the fox' burrow to draw and kill their quarry. It was in those days a saying that a good terrior never came out of a burrow without a fox.

Outside of certain strips and centers where arteries of travel cross, Paris has no night life. In a good 2,500 of her 2,722 streets one gets the impression at nine o'clock that everybody has gone to bed, and, at ten, that all the inhabitants have either moved to the country or died, says Scribner's Magazine. In the little cafes and restaurants of my quarter, as it draws toward ten the waiters begin to regard you with an evil eye, and at ten they pile up the chairs on the empty tables and begin to sweep the floor. Even in the larger ones, which keep open an hour or two longer, you experience, at eleven o'clock, the very disagreeable sensation of the man in the old song who felt "like one who treads alone some banquet hall deserted."

Fastidious fancy is difficult to fathom where values are concerned. A dinosaur's egg is old and useless, but is expected to bring thousands of dollars. As a practical proposition a hen's egg is far more worthy of consideration. The kitchen is still fortunate in not being obliged to compete with the curio collection.

References to American diplomacy as inferior to that of the old world are frequent. Americans are usually quick to learn almost any kind of a game, though inclined to be particular as to the kind of rules under which they play.

Another reason why we expect very little from the new truth serum is, even if it be efficacious the supply will be so limited that very little can be accomplished. If it were in oceanfuls, instead of in ounces, the case might be different.

Philosophy Well Defined.

Philosophy is but common sense by a more circuitous route.—Zanwell.

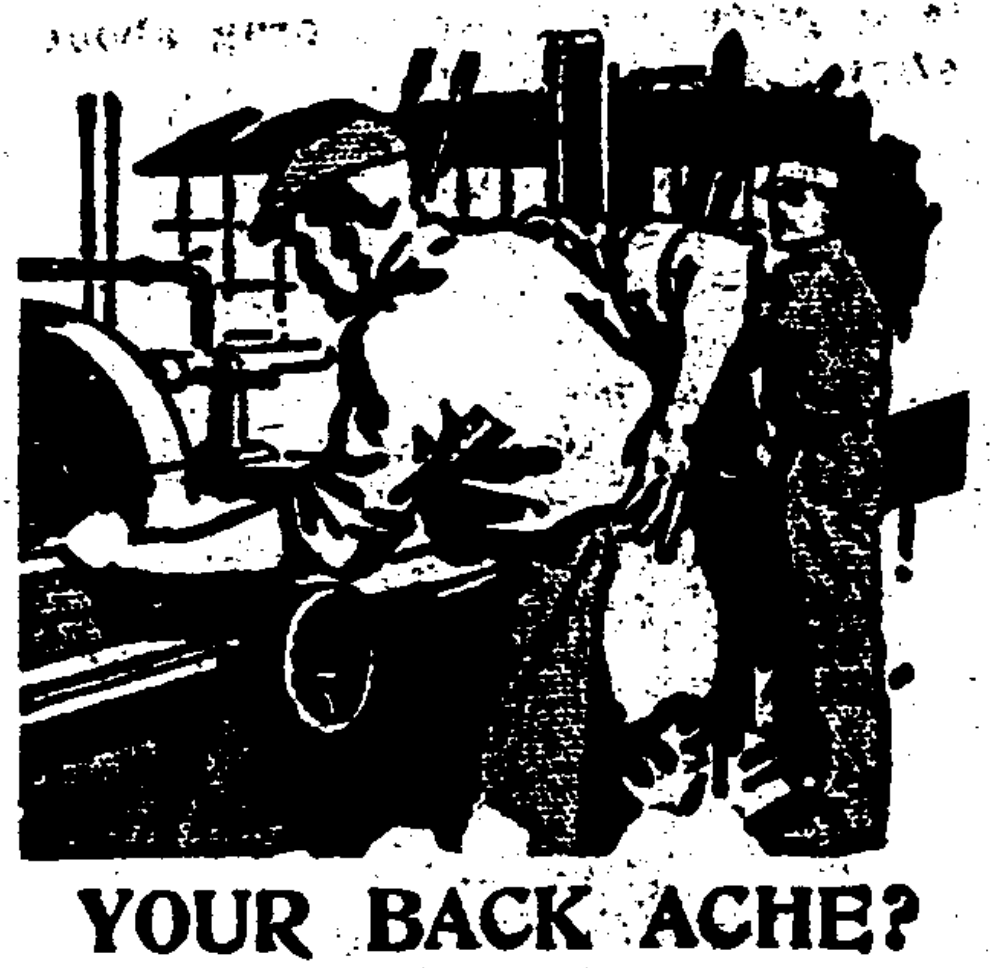
Origin of "Hustings."

Husting was the name of an ancient court held in the city of London. In its present sense the word denotes the place where members of parliament were nominated before the ballot act of 1872 rejected the form of nominating openly. From this it has come to be applied to any electioneering platform.



YOUR BACK ACHE?

After Grip, "flu" or colds, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of kidneys.

This is the red flag of danger—better be wise and check the further inroads of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as Anuric (anti-uric-acid), because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package of Anuric, or ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache remedy).

Everywhere folks praise it.

Butler, Pa.—"I had the influenza and it left me with bad kidneys, they were inflamed and sore, congested and inactive and my back ached so badly that it seemed it would break in two. At times the pains would extend clear up to the back of my neck. I took medicine for my kidneys but nothing gave me any relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and they so completely relieved me of all my kidney trouble and put my kidneys in such perfect working order that they have never given me any more trouble. I have never taken medicine that can compare with Dr. Pierce's Anuric."—W. J. Love, 818 Jefferson Street.

Too Much of a Good Thing

"It is six years since I had my first stomach trouble. It rapidly grew worse. My food would not digest and I was reduced to skin and bone. My doctor put me on a starvation diet, and when my pains grew worse I concluded it was too much of a good thing. On the advice of my druggist I tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and am now entirely well." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhl mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal aliments including appendicitis. Leopold and Loeb Pleading Guilty

Here are Nathan F. Leopold Jr. (left) and Richard Loeb, 19-year-old sons of millionaires, at the bar in Chief Justice John R. Caverly's court, pleading guilty to the kidnaping and murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks. Both of the youthful "intellectuals" were dressed fastidiously as they came into court. And both outwardly were calm as they walked to the beach. Leopold, however, is gazing downward, but Loeb is looking straight at the judge. The strain, though, is noticeable in the faces of both.

Rev. Shaulis will administer the sacrament of Holy Communion at Grace Lutheran church on Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Zinn and family and Mrs. Harry Pugh, all of Morgantown, W. Va., visited at their cousin's Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baer, South Side. James Goss, an uncle, of Philipsburg, also was a vistor at the Baer home.

We are requested to announce in case some people misinterpret the bible convention at the Park, that it is not strictly a Baptist affair but an inter-denominational meeting and that members of all churches are cordially invited and will be made welcome.

The florists association held a picnic atthe Park. Representatives from every section of this and adjoining counties were present and enjoyed the days' outing. There were more people on grounds yesterday than for any single day during the week day season, and they were not all florists either, by a long shot.

Two young men of the South side were before 'Squire Dale yesterday on a charge of stealing money from the clothes of persons who were in bathing. They admitted the charge and each was bound over under a $300 bail bond to appear at next term of court.

Airento Lerento was before 'Squire was before 'Squire Dale yesterday forenoon under the charge of selling cigarettes to boys under age. He conducts a store on south Pine street. He denied any knowledge of the offense alleging that his wife was the guilty party. Proceedings will be entered against her, provided the matter is not settled outside the pale of the law's regular course.

"Buckie" Baer's Arabs crossed bats with the Reedsville club Wednesday afternoon and came out of the fray, losing the game by score of 8-4. "Buckie" has not been very successful thus far in the season with a winning aggregation, they having suffered defeat in every game played.

Mrs. Foster, of Pittsburgh, was a guest of Mrs. C. E. Doverspike Wednesday and a part of Thursday.

Reuben Pentz, of Indiana, Pa., and Mrs. Elan Ireland of Goshen, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Post, McLaughlin street, this week.

The body of Mrs. Arnold Bloom arrived in Curwensville yesterday afternoon and conveyed from the train to Oak Hill cemetery and after a short funeral service was laid to rest alongside that of her husband. The Adult ladies bible class of the M. E. church, attended services of their deceased sister in a body. Rev. Dr. J. V. Adams conducting the service.

George Kivolie and Quito Vistelia, two young boys were picked up yesterday forenoon by Probation officer and local officers, and taken before the Justice of the Peace on a charge of incorrigibility. George Kivolie having been at large since July 1st. Both were taken to Clearfield by the office.

John P. Welch died at his home on George street yesterday morning at the hour of 8 o'clock after a lengthy illness, catarrh of the throat and other complications. He was born July 3rd, 1857, and had been in the employ of the Penna railroad company for almost forty years, but in 1922 was placed on the retired list. In 1901 he was sent to Grampian where he remained about five years, and then came to Curwensville, where he has made his home since that time. His wife died some twenty-odd years ago. He is survived by a son, Lester, and one daughter, Mrs Maude Torut of Mt. Union, one sister Miss Annie Welsh, who kept house for him and two brothers, William of Sunbury and Robert of Vail, Blair county. He was an exemplary citizen, honest and courteous to all. He was a member of St. Timethy Catholic church and the funeral services will be held on Saturday forenoon at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery at Clearfield.

MAINTAIN LEAD BY DEFEATING OSCEOLA BY A SCORE OF 9 TO 7

Manager Robinson took his ball team over to Osceola yesterday afternoon and, with "Dode" Wisor, on the mound succeeded in maintaining their hold on first place in the C. & C. League race by downing the mountain climbers by a 9 to 7 score.

The locals opened on the Osceola lads like a veritable whirlwind and chased five runs across before the third man was out in the very first round.

McCloskey opened hostilities by cracking out a single. Rowles dumped the ball in front of the plate and was thrown out at first, the sacrifice advancing McCloskey to second. Robinson managed to get to first on a fielder's choice, and promptly stole second.

McCloskey and Robbie both came in on W. Fauver's single. Shaulis hit to first and was out. Roseberry's tap was fumbled by Dugan and he made first base.

Peterson's doubel scored Roseberry and "Pete" counted when Lansberry poled out a double. "Joberry" was out at third on his try for three bases on the hit.

Singles by McCloskey and Robinson netted another run in the second inning, while a base on balls to McCloskey, Robinson's double, W. Fauver's triple and a single by Shaulis scored three more in the fourth.

Osceola got their first run off Wisor on a base on balls an error and Hensal's double in the fourth inning. A base on balls, an error and there singles netted them three more in the sixth. They got another in the seventh on Demonic's double and a single by Carey. Three singles and an error gave them their final two in the eighth.

The game was featured from our side by the hitting of McCloskey, Fauver, Robinson, Peterson and Lansberry, while Fauver and Robinson excelled in the field.

The score:

OSCEOLA	R	H	O	A	E
Demonic, 2b	1	2	3	1	1

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Are using these rare powders

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I did not intend to supply powders to women. My only idea was to furnish them my greatest beauty helps. But thousands of women have urged me, by letter and in person, to tell them the powders I use.

Edna Wallace Hopper

Like all my friends on the stage and in the movies, I use very costly powders. I have them made to my order, and they cost me $5 per box. Our careers depend on our looks, and nothing is too costly.

But I have persuaded the makers to offer these powders at ordinary prices. I order them in quanities, under my name. I offer them at my expense to girls and women who desire the best.

Now all druggists and toilet counters supplly Edna Wallace Hopper's Powders. There are two kinds. For myself I prefer a clinging powder, a cold cream powder, based on my Youth Cream. It is enduring. That Youth Cream Powder costs $1. But many women prefer a light and fluffy powder. If you want that kind it costs but 50 cents. Both kinds come in three shades—white, flesh and brunette.

So far as I know, these powders are the finest in existance. Yoy may be sure that if anyone produced a better powder I would get it quickly. Anyone who uses common powders will gain a new conception of what powders should be.

Deputies Are Named Who Will Re-Vaccinate Those On Which It Won't Take

Dr. Arthur D. Cowdrick, County Medical Director, has been notified by the State Secretary of Health, Dr. Charles H. Miner, that the following County Physicians have been appointed as official Deputies to revaccinate free of charge, school children who have undergone two or more unsuccessful attempts at vaccination against smallpox. The appointees are:

Dr. J. F. Rowles, Mahaffey, Pa.
Dr. G. B. Kirk, Kylertown, Pa.
Dr. R. L. Williams, Houtzdale, Pa.
Dr. B. G. Learn, Ansonville, Pa.
Dr. John A. Gregory, DuBois, Pa.

School children living in the rural districts who have been twice unsuccessfully vaccinated, or those who had [illegible] admitted to school last term on official temporary certificate which will admit them to school for the current school year. In cities, Boroughs, or Townships of the first class having organized Boards of Health, this official revaccination must be performed by the Board of Health Physician.

Teachers or school Principals are not allowed to admit children to school unless they present, or have already filed a certificate of successful vaccination, or in the case of unsuccessful results the official temporary certificate, which must have been issued since June 1st, at which time temporary certificates issued during the previous school term became void.

The County Medical Director has pointed out the fact that school teachers must be careful in demanding proper vaccination certificates. A certificate stating that a child has been vaccinated is not sufficient. The vaccination Physician must certify that an examination of the child made not less than eight days after vaccination disclosed a vaccination scar, or cicatrix indicating a successful vaccination. If this vaccination cicatrix is not in evidence, the Physician cannot legally certify, and the child must be revaccinated.

The Supreme Court in Lee vs March 203 Pennsylvania, Page 351, has ruled that it is obligatory to use the vaccination certificate forms prescribed by the State Department of Health. These forms are furnished free of charge to all Physicians practicing in the second class townships, and any other form cannot legally be accepted by the teacher or Principal.

Citing the law, it is also explained that teachers may not accept certificates issued by the family physician or School Medical Inspectors exempting pupils from vaccination because of an alleged physical disability. Cases of actual physical disability for vaccination are rare. Generally speaking, any child that is well enough to go to school is a fit subject for vaccination. If physical disability is claimed, such cases must be passed upon by the County Medical Director or one of the officials above named.

School Medical Inspectors are directed by the Secretary of Health to verify the existence of the required vaccination cicatrix and pass upon the validity of vaccination certificates filed.

The [illegible] Chain.

The "endless chain" of "snowball" is a practice of considerable antiquity. In 1678 Pope Innocent XI condemned the circulation of prayers in this way. Some years ago a writer in the [illegible] Examiner calculated that the "conditions" fulfilled each way would produce 400,000,000 in [illegible] days.

MOM'N POP Wanted—A Partner BY TAYLOR

CHARLIE - I'VE DROPPED IN TO TALK ABOUT A LITTLE MATTER AND IF YOU'RE INTERESTED IN A SCHEME TO DOUBLE OR TRIPLE YOUR MONEY WE'LL GET RIGHT DOWN TO BUSINESS !!
YOU'LL NEVER FIND ME GUILTY OF REJECTING A PLAN TO FATTEN MY BANKROLL!
WELL, CHARLIE, I RECENTLY BOUGHT A PIECE OF GROUND AND THERE ARE ALL INDICATIONS OF OIL UNDER THE PLACE SO I'D LIKE TO GET A PARTNER TO GO IN WITH ME AND HELP DEVELOP THE PROPOSITION
BUT-- AHEM !!- THERE'S NOTHING SURE ABOUT THIS SAY - IF THIS THING GOES THROUGH IT'LL BE THE SUREST INVESTMENT YOU EVER MADE!
WELL - I - I'M SORRY BUT AT THE PRESENT TIME MY CASH IS TIED UP IN STOCKS - BUT POSSIBLY BY THE TIME YOU HAVE THIS WELL FLOWING - I'LL BE ABLE TO GO FIFTY-FIFTY WITH YOU!
IF YOU EXPECT ME TO MILK THE COW AND GIVE YOU THE CREAM YOU'LL BE AS DISAPPOINTED AS A WOMAN IN A ROOM WITH TWO THOUSAND HATS AND NO MIRROR. I SAID I WANTED A PARTNER - NOT A LEECH WHO WANTS TO GET RICH FROM THE SWEAT OF MY LABOR !!
